

Marcus Härtel
Market Infrastructure
Expert and Chair of the Business Model
Workstream of the Digital
Euro Rulebook
Development Group,
European Central Bank

Marcus Härtel is part of the digital euro project team and is responsible for the business model side. This includes next to considerations about the compensation model also all front-end oriented design considerations.

Marcus is further involved in the rule book development work which will set the future technical framework for a potential future digital euro scheme.

Before joining the ECB, Marcus worked for 11 years in different positions at Deutsche Bundesbank, in various positions related to retail payments.