

Tim Hermans

Director of the National Bank of Belgium

Tim Hermans was appointed Director of the National Bank of Belgium in 2015 and his mandate was renewed for a further 6 years in 2021.

Before his current role, he occupied different positions in the National Bank of Belgium including Adviser on prudential policy and financial stability and Adviser to the General Statistics Department.

Prior to that, Mr. Hermans held several senior Adviser roles in the Belgian government.

He holds a degree in Economic Sciences from the Catholic University of Leuven.